“That rare muckraking film with a sense of humor.”
 Kenneth Turan, Los Angeles Times

“Frightening and funny! Blue Vinyl has left audiences lingering in the hallways for hours to debate and question.”
 Sharon Waxman, Washington Post

With humor, chutzpah and a piece of vinyl siding in hand, Daniel Gold & Judith Helfand's award-winning Blue Vinyl picks up where Helfand's Peabody award-winning film A Healthy Baby Girl left off – in search of the truth about vinyl, America's most popular plastic. Helfand's parents' decision to “re-side” their house with this seemingly benign cure-all for many suburban homes turns into a toxic odyssey with twists and turns that most ordinary homeowners would never dare to take. A detective story, an eco-activism doc and a rollicking comedy all rolled into one – it's a journey you can't afford to miss.
